OIL INDIA'S PERCEPTION ON CARING FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

Chopped trees, barren earth, polluted water and lifeless jungles - is this the environment that our children will inherit from us ? Can a nation achieve progress and development if its environment is abused and natural resources destroyed ?

Oil India's concern for environment is not new. The E & P activities require large-scale operations - huge rigs, tankers, hundreds of miles of pipelines - all of which affect the environment. With growing environmental awareness, OIL has devoted considerable time and resources to find ways of reducing their impact on the environment. In the final analysis, however, it is a question of balance between the need for energy and the desire for a genuine commitment to sustainable development.

Environment is our common heritage. Hence it is the people - you and me - who can save our environment, through our actions to conserve natural resources, save energy, safeguard forests and wildlife, and by adopting environmentally sound lifestyles.

Innovations for everyday

It is just not enough to have over 212 active patents, 65 OEM approvals, 1500 product formulations and processes that have transformed the Indian petroleum industry. Nor is it enough to be recognised as a referral centre for technology excellence in energy. Pioneering Bio-remediation technology to tackle oil spills, advanced catalysts that improve distillate yield... or even building state-of-art supply chain processes that ensure reduced downtime and efficient customer inventories. Also not significant is our cutting edge research in Hydrogen, Biogas, Ethanol blended fuel and advanced Tribology. For what drive us is the difference innovation makes to millions of Indians...everyday.
